Morguard Investments: Telling their story to the investment community

Morguard investments is one of Canada's largest integrated real estate companies with a diversified portfolio of more than $6.4 billion in properties owned or under management.

They turned to Room 40 Communications when the company needed expert help communicating their service offering to the real estate investment community.

Working with top Morguard Executives, Room 40 helped Morguard focus its story and tell it in clear and understandable ways to international business and investment audiences.
